Judicial Watch Founder/Clinton Nemesis Larry Klayman Might Have Touched His Children In Their Swimsuit Areas

by Rebecca Schoenkopf

Well this is gross and awful. Larry Klayman, who made his bones with Judicial Watch, which was constantly suing Bill Clinton every time he sneezed (with his penis), and who most recently has been writing for WND and representing totally rad heavy metal children's entertainer Bradlee Dean, may have sexually abused his own children! Ha? Ha? Hilarious?

Specifically, Larry Klayman was appealing a Cuyahoga County court order regarding visitation and his wife's attorney's fees, and the court found that previous magistrates had not been in error when they took away his visitation rights and awarded his ex-wife a shitload of money.

From BradleeDeanInfo, via CityPages:

From Appeals Court Judge Mary Boyle, July 26,2012 [PDF]

{¶25} The issues raised by Klayman involve credibility assessments made by the magistrate. Klayman challenges these findings. The magistrate heard evidence from the children’s pediatrician who reported allegations of sexual abuse to children services, and from a social worker at children services who found that sexual abuse was “indicated.” Although the social worker’s finding was later changed to “unsubstantiated” when Klayman appealed, the magistrate explained that the supervisor who changed the social worker’s finding did not testify. The magistrate pointed out that he was obligated to make his own independent analysis based upon the parties and the evidence before him. In doing so, the magistrate found on more than one occasion [Klayman] act[ed] in a grossly inappropriate manner with the children. His conduct may not have been sexual in the sense that he intended to or did derive any sexual pleasure from it or that he intended his children would. That, however, does not mean that he did not engage in those acts or that his behavior was proper.

{¶26} The magistrate further found it significant that although Klayman denied any allegations of sexual abuse, he never denied that he did not engage in inappropriate behavior with the children. The magistrate further found it notable that Klayman, “for all his breast beating about his innocence * * * [he] scrupulously avoided being questioned by anyone from [children services] or from the Sheriff’s Department about the allegations,” and that he refused to answer any questions, repeatedly invoking his Fifth Amendment rights, about whether he inappropriately touched the children. “Even more disturbing” to the magistrate was the fact that Klayman would not even answer the simple question regarding what he thought inappropriate touching was. The magistrate stated that he could draw an adverse inference from Klayman’s decision not to testify to these matters because it was a civil proceeding, not criminal.

This does not mean Larry Klayman is guilty. (Because we are liberals.) There are lots of reasons a man might have touched his children, on the real, and we are not privy to the testimony. Also, if anyone is going to constantly invoke the Fifth Amendment when he has the opportunity to clear his name, it is Larry Klayman, because he is a crazy person. It just means fucking ew.

That is perfectly acceptable behavior because he wasn't an ELECTED official. See, where you screwed up there? Morals are for elected persons, and when they are caught, you need to check for their party affiliation. (R) = Unsubstantiated rumor. (D) = Impeachable offense. It couldn't be more logical.

The Week In Larry Klayman's Failed Lawyering

Topic: WorldNetDaily

What has failed attorney Larry Klayman been up to this week?

First up, lying preacher Bradlee Dean revealed that he spent $77,000 on his failed, Klayman-represented lawsuit against Rachel Maddow. He finally gave up because the judge in the case refused to let Klayman transfer the lawsuit from a Washington, D.C., court to a federal court -- a move being done for the sole reason of depriving Maddow of one avenue of defense -- unless Dean paid $24,000 to Maddow's lawyers to mount a new defense.

Presumably, Klayman got a good chunk of that $77,000. Seems that Dean has a case for getting some of that money back by suing Klayman for incompetent representation. Also, there's the question of Dean got that $77,000 in the first place, given that he's supposed to be a nonprofit preacher.

(Meanwhile, a Dean representative sent a cease-and-desist letter to Wonkette trying to claim that Dean's reference to "the rod of correction" doesn't mean that he "advocated the beating of children." It also notes that Dean has retained an attorney in the case who is not Klayman.)

Then, Klayman lined up a new sucker -- er, client. He's now representing a group called Citizens To Protect Fair Election Results, which is trying to stop a recall campaign against Arizona sheriff Joe Arpaio. According to the Arizona Republic, Klayman has sent a cease-and-desist letter to recall organizers, claiming that "There are no valid reasons for this recall petition" because Arpaio was just re-elected and that it's illegal anyway because Arizona prohibits the circulation of recall petitions against an official until he or she has held office for six months.

Just a couple of problems with that. First, legal experts (which Klayman is clearly not) agree that the recall prohibition limit doesn't apply to incumbents (which Arpaio is).

Second, Klayman has shown no interest in giving President Obama the same post-election deference he demands for Arpaio. Two days before Obama was inaugurated, Klayman was ranting that "its time to legally remove the tyrant Obama from our body politic and cleanse the nation of his evil and destructive march to abolish our liberty and freedoms."

Not only is Klayman an incompetent lawyer, it seems his moral standards are extremely flexible depending on who he's going after.

Oh, needless to say, Bob Unruh's WND article on the Arpaio recall petition fails to mention the conflict of interest that Klayman has also represented WND, nor does it note that Klayman is completely wrong about the petition being illegal.

UPDATE: The Phoenix New Times reports that Citizens To Protect Fair Election Results is headed by the leaders of the Surprise Tea Party, to whom WND's Jerome Corsi gave a birther presentation that led to a request from the group to Arpaio to investigate Obama's "eligibility" to be president. Funny how that goes around.

How Is Larry Klayman Beclowning Himself This Week?

Topic: WorldNetDaily

Larry Klayman began his June 7 WorldNetDaily column by calling President Obama "our American 'führer,'" and it just kinda goes downhill from there. with Klayman ramping up his already heightened sense of paranoia:

Coupled with the government's stockpiling of guns and ammunition, intimidation with internal security forces, which deploy black helicopters over our cities firing practice rounds, and other coercive tactics, it is no longer beyond imagination that Obama and his comrades may be intending to seize absolute power with the goal of relegating We the People as his slaves – never relinquishing power.

Because calling the president a "führer" and ranting about black helicopters is a surefire way to be taken seriously in the public arena.

Speaking of not being taken seriously, Klayman has been active on the nuisance-lawsuit end of his so-called lawyering. Wonkette details how Klayman has been suing various media outlets (though, surprisingly, not us or Wonkette) for reporting on a judicial finding in his very litigious divorce that he had apparently engaged in "inappropriate behavior" with his children and that "Klayman would not even answer the simple question regarding what he thought inappropriate touching was" and even invoked the Fifth Amendment to avoid answering it.

The news organizations in question have filed a motion to dismiss Klayman's lawsuit, arguing that Klayman failed to substantiate how what was written about him was defamation. Klayman's apparent response to that was to sue the judge who made that finding about him.

And here's where the real beclowning begins. Klayman kicks things off by insulting the judge as "Jewish, a Democrat and a leftist" who purportedly "detests" Klayman "because he is a Jew who believes in Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior and the Son of God and us a cibservative activist who has brought many successful lawsuits and taken hard hitting legal actions against Democrats."

Klayman goes on to essentially call his children and ex-wife liars by citing statistics about false child abuse reports, and he complains that he wasn't allowed to enter a polygraph test, "which he easily passed," into evidence as proof of his innocence.

We're not lawyers, but even we can see that the polygraph is utterly meaningless. The questions Klayman was asked in the polygraph involved whether he "sexually abuse[d]" his children or touch his children's "private sexual parts." But he wasn't accused of "sexual abuse." According to the news organization's motion to dismiss, the judge had noted in finding that Klayman had "inappropriately" touched his children:

- o Allegations that Plaintiff inappropriately touched his son's genitals;
- o Allegations that Plaintiff kissed his son and daughter "all over" their bodies;
- o Allegations that Plaintiff had his daughter wash his genitals;
- o The children's pediatrician contacted a child welfare agency to report that Plaintiff had possibly molested his son;
- o A state social worker found that sexual abuse was indicated;
- o One of Plaintiff's female friends took Plaintiff's nine year old daughter to alingerie store and purchased thong underwear for the daughter, which Plaintiff encouraged his daughter to wear;
- o Plaintiff's complete lack of credibility; and
- o State and federal judges across the country having found Plaintiff to have acted with complete disregard for the judicial process.

The polygraph address only one of the allegations, and asks about a "sexual abuse" allegation that was never specifically made.

WND and its leader, Joseph Farah, have yet to comment on these allegations against its main attorney. Perhaps it's time he does.

In Which Wonkette Tries To Bait Larry Klayman Into Suing Us Also, Too

by snipy

Here at Wonkette, we've been diligently working to arrive, as the kids say these days. We've been picking twitter fights with people (well, that's mostly just the Editrix, but, you know, communism, so by extension all of us are fight-picking). We've been getting threatening letters from Bradleeeeeee Dean promising to sue us. But you guys, no one is actually suing us! Who does a blog have to blow to get sued around here? Larry Klayman (oh, christ, we're not gonna link to all the times we've had to write about this clown) is stone cold suing alt-weeklies but is not suing Wonkette.

Activist attorney Larry Klayman today announced filing a lawsuit in federal court here (Case 5:13-cv-00143-ACC-PRL) against City Pages of Minnesota and Phoenix New Times, charging that they defamed him by stating falsely that he inappropriately touched his children.

As alleged in the complaint, "The defendants in this lawsuit are ultra leftist publications who are maliciously using my children to harm me in retaliation for my legal representation of conservative clients fighting radical homosexual and pro illegal immigrant agendas.”

If Bradlee was going to sue us, why won't his terrible lawyer sue us? Goddammit! What are we, not pretty enough to be sued? Not young enough to be sued? Not ultra-leftist enough to be sued? Not malicious enough to be sued? OK, it could never be that last reason, as we are malicious as can be. Especially in this case, we should totally be sued, because we linked to the City Pages' article about Klayman's alleged child-touching. It is too boring and complicated to re-explain here, and if we did re-explain here, we wouldn't get delicious page views to make you go read our old article on it.

Fine. Since you insist, the very short version: Larry Klayman's wife divorced him, because who wouldn't, and in the divorce filings there was some allegation that Klayman touched his children. Lucky duckies City Pages AND yr Wonkette both printed an admittedly much too long excerpt from a ruling in the case that basically said that even if he hadn't touched his children, he still could have behaved inappropriately and also too that he behaved like a creep and kept pleading the Fifth rather than, you know, explaining how he was NOT touching his children. Perhaps we are not getting sued because of our weenie liebrul disclaimer at the end?

This does not mean Larry Klayman is guilty. (Because we are liberals.) There are lots of reasons a man might have touched his children, on the real, and we are not privy to the testimony. Also, if anyone is going to constantly invoke the Fifth Amendment when he has the opportunity to clear his name, it is Larry Klayman, because he is a crazy person. It just means fucking ew.

Just think. If only we'd skipped that whiny bit at the end, we could be getting sued too!

To soothe our wounded egos, we went over and read the complaint (helpfully posted in full at Klayman's vanity website, which features a distressing soft-focus portrait of Klayman). We'll sum it up for you here!

- Gays are mean to Bradlee Dean and therefore Larry Klayman by extension.
- Everyone at City Pages either is a gay or loves the gays
- City Pages is attacking Larry Klayman because they are gay gay gay gaylovers.
- City Pages is attacking Larry Klayman because Larry Klayman is gay (in a no homo way) for Sheriff Joe Arpaio

Welp, we are SOLD by that reasoning. We're also completely sold on the idea that linking to a court decision about someone along with an extended bit of pointing and laughing is defamation, so it is probably time to sue Wonkette back to the stone age, as linking and laughing is pretty much all we know how to do.

Ah the law suit, the last refuge of people who are pissed about calling them on their bullshit. Sorry Larry, being ultra leftist and pointing out the dumb stuff you say is not grounds for defamation. The biggest reasons are what is being said is true. And you are a public figure and people can make fun of you.

Larry Klayman, founder of radical rightwing "Judicial Watch," who constantly sued Bill Clinton, charged with doing you-know-what to his children

Why are all rightwingnutjobs pedophiles???

-- quote

<http://wonkette.com/485407/judicial-watch-founderclinton-nemesis-larry-klayman-might-have-touched-his-children-in-their-swimsuit-areas>

Well this is gross and awful. Larry Klayman, who made his bones with Judicial Watch, which was constantly suing Bill Clinton every time he sneezed (with his penis), and who most recently has been writing for WND and representing totally rad heavy metal children's entertainer Bradlee Dean, may have sexually abused his own children! Ha? Ha? Hilarious?

Specifically, Larry Klayman was appealing a Cuyahoga County court order regarding visitation and his wife's attorney's fees, and the court found that previous magistrates had not been in error when they took away his visitation rights and awarded his ex-wife a shitload of money.

From Appeals Court Judge Mary Boyle, July 26, 2012 [PDF]

{?25} The issues raised by Klayman involve credibility assessments made by the magistrate. Klayman challenges these findings. The magistrate heard evidence from the children's pediatrician who reported allegations of sexual abuse to children services, and from a social worker at children services who found that sexual abuse was ?indicated.? Although the social worker's finding was later changed to ?unsubstantiated? when Klayman appealed, the magistrate explained that the supervisor who changed the social worker's finding did not testify. The magistrate pointed out that he was obligated to make his own independent analysis based upon the parties and the evidence before him. In doing so, the magistrate found on more than one occasion [Klayman] act[ed] in a grossly inappropriate manner with the children. His conduct may not have been sexual in the sense that he intended to or did derive any sexual pleasure from it or that he intended his children would. That, however, does not mean that he did not engage in those acts or that his behavior was proper.

{?26} The magistrate further found it significant that although Klayman denied any allegations of sexual abuse, he never denied that he did not engage in inappropriate behavior with the children. The magistrate further found it notable that Klayman, ?for all his breast beating about his innocence * * * [he] scrupulously avoided being questioned by anyone from [children services] or from the Sheriff's Department about the allegations,? and that he refused to answer any questions, repeatedly invoking his Fifth Amendment rights, about whether he inappropriately touched the children. ?Even more disturbing? to the magistrate was the fact that Klayman would not even answer the simple question regarding what he thought inappropriate touching was. The magistrate stated that he could draw an adverse inference from Klayman's decision not to testify to these matters because it was a civil proceeding, not criminal.

This does not mean Larry Klayman is guilty. (Because we are liberals.) There are lots of reasons a man might have touched his children, on the real, and we are not privy to the testimony. Also, if anyone is going to constantly invoke the Fifth Amendment when he has the opportunity to clear his name, it is Larry Klayman, because he is a crazy person. It just means fucking ew.

Women may come, and,
Women may go.

But a dog and a truck

"It is not unnaturally claimed by Western Jews that Russian Jewry, as a whole, is most bitterly opposed to Bolshevism. Now although there is a great measure of truth in this claim, since the prominent Bolsheviks, who are preponderantly Jewish, do not belong to the orthodox Jewish Church, it is yet possible, without laying ones self open to the charge of antisemitism, to point to the obvious fact that Jewry, as a whole, has, consciously or unconsciously, worked for and promoted an international economic, material despotism which, with Puritanism as an ally, has tended in an everincreasing degree to crush national and spiritual values out of existence and substitute the ugly and deadening machinery of finance and factory.

It is also a fact that Jewry, as a whole, strove with every nerve to secure, and heartily approved of, the overthrow of the Russian monarchy, WHICH THEY REGARDED AS THE MOST FORMIDABLE OBSTACLE IN THE PATH OF THEIR AMBITIONS and business pursuits.

All this may be admitted, as well as the plea that, individually or collectively, most Jews may heartily detest the Bolshevik regime, yet it is still true that the whole weight of Jewry was in the revolutionary scales against the Czar's government.

It is true their apostate brethren, who are now riding in the seat of power, may have exceeded their orders; that is disconcerting, but it does not alter the fact.

It may be that the Jews, often the victims of their own idealism, have always been instrumental in bringing about the events they most heartily disapprove of; that perhaps is the curse of the Wandering Jew."

Birther Lawyer Still Calling For Armed Revolution Against ‘Mullah-In-Chief’

Author: Nathaniel Downes September 19, 2013 3:01 pm

Larry Klayman's newest piece, titled 'Obama, come out with your hands up' reveals how paranoid and delusional he is, as he he calls for out and out treason. The above birther photo-meme has been circulating the Internet.

Just when you think the Birther movement is dead, it rears its ugly head, clinging to even more extreme ideas than before. Larry Klayman of the very misnamed FreedomWatch, has released a piece titled "Obama, come out with your hands up" where he calls for armed insurrection and to send Obama to '72 Virgins' (a reference to the common misperception that dutiful Muslims will be rewarded with 72 virgins upon their death). In other words, Mr. Klayman is calling for a mob to lynch the president, because his earlier calls for an armed insurrection failed miserably.

His call is for this lynch mob to rally at a date “before Thanksgiving” to chant, “Mr. President (to use the term loosely), put the Quran down, get up off your knees and come out with your hands up!” To Mr. Klayman, it is a grand conspiracy of epic proportions. he rails against everyone, claiming every judge in the country is against him except for a few, he names Justice Royce Lamberth, and that the law is on his side. Truth is, Justice Lamberth already rejected the Birther claims, shooting his argument in the foot. Even his claimed “right judge” has destroyed his basic argument.

He, along with other insane birthers do not comprehend that the reason why their court claims have been thrown out is that they have no merit. They are so convinced that this is some widespread conspiracy that they are completely unable to grasp reality. But, to defend themselves against what Mr. Klayman calls the “mullah-in-chief” the birthers have resorted to out and out treason, and attempted to form a shadow government.

One of Mr. Klayman’s acts was to set up what he calls a “Citizens Grand Jury,” claiming that these juries have authority and power. In fact, the only person who can call for a citizens grand jury are judges of the correct court level. For Mr. Klayman to have called for a citizens grand jury, he would have needed a sign-off by the United States Supreme Court. He has not gotten such a sign-off, so his jury is completely fraudulent. It did draw headlines last year for claiming to have indicted the president.

This effort, part of the larger Sovereign Citizens domestic terrorist network seeks nothing short of the destruction of the US Constitution, the deposing of democracy, and the imposition of dictatorship. They hate the rule of law, they want the imposition of rules, rules they set. They wrap themselves in the American flag while they seek to destroy the United States. They are traitors to the founding fathers, traitors to America itself, engaging in Stochastic Terrorism to bring down the country which has given so much to them.

For a reminder, the definition of Stochastic Terrorism:

The use of mass communications or social media to incite individuals not directly tied to the source to carry out violent or terrorist acts that are statistically predictable but individually unpredictable.

Larry Klayman does not need to tell his followers “go and kill President Obama.” He just needs to implant the idea, by referencing common framework. The president is not “The President” he is the “Mullah-In-Chief.” Instead of impeachment, he calls to send President Obama to “72 Virgins.” And he just has to wait for the seed he plants to blossom, all while claiming innocence over the results of his actions.

Of course, Larry Klayman fails to mention the times he sexually abused his children or how he damaged his former employer and held an affair with a staffer at his office. His numerous frivolous lawsuits were dismissed. Of course, that was the judges at fault, not Mr. Klayman, right? It was his former employer’s fault, his children’s fault. Everybody’s fault but his own.

And it extends beyond himself. Fertilizer plant explosion? To Mr. Klayman, its not the result of unsafe conditions and lack of regulations, but it has to be Muslims. Arizona Sheriff breaking the law? No, its those darn brown people at fault. US Drone shot down by Iran? Nope, it was a gift.

Larry Klayman is a worm of a human being, seeking to destroy the United States rather than face the reality of his own failings. He failed as a husband, a father, a lawyer, and to be a decent human being. Now he would rather burn down the United States than face the truth, that he is wrong.

Why isn't the Secret Service visiting this twerp? He's inciting others to commit violence and fomenting insurrection. Apparently he doesn't realize there are sizable numbers of people -- especially in the gun-ridden south -- who have been riding the ragged edge of sanity since the president was elected, and only need a small push to do something stupid. I am all for free speech, and the birthers can rant all they like about our "Mullah-in-Chief," but this sort of thing should get him time in a federal prison.

It would probably make him feel quite good about himself to have his door kicked down one morning, but the only reason I can think of for him not being arrested after doing all that is that no one thinks he's a real threat. Granted, he might be able to get one or two people to follow him in some illegal venture, but elaborate assassination plots devised by mad people are rarely that successful. He must spend every day waiting for the feds to arrive (and probably anticipates it with glee) but really the sad little bastard's just beneath notice. He's funny though.

I thought it only took 3 concerned adults to have someone committed? I am certain we could get 3 million if that would get him the help he needs...

I could tell that guy was unhinged when he was on the TeeVee back in the '90s. He needs to be picked up by the Feds now. They need be interrogated and they need to make sure he has no firearms or other weapons.

I expect that the Secret Service keeps tabs on him, as they do with hundreds, if not thousands, of other nutcases who might be a problem.

Curious as to how many real 'murkin patriots show up to his clown show. And, I'm sure the FBI knows this moron's next move before he does.

Bradlee Dean's attorney, Larry Klayman, allegedly sexually abused his own children

Bradlee Dean has long linked homosexuality and child sexual abuse. For instance, in a blog post from June about Larry Brinken's child porn arrest, Dean wrote, "The news about Brinken's horrific child-pornography crimes followed the conclusion of 'Pride Week,' yet again puling off the mask of the radical homosexual agenda to expose who they are, what they are and who their target really is, showing who is truly under attack."

Well this week brought some uncomfortable news for the tracksuit-wearing homophobic preacher -- his notorious lawyer, the presumably straight Larry Klayman, has allegedly sexually abused his own children.
